Hon. Julius Migos Ogamba, EBS, Cabinet Secretary For Education

The Governing Council of Eldoret National Polytechnic,
The Chief Principal,

Distinguished Guests,

Trainers, the Graduating Students,
Proud Parents and Guardians,
Ladies and Gentlemen,

Good morning.

It gives me great pleasure to join you today on this momentous occasion: the 20th Graduation Ceremony of Eldoret National Polytechnic. To the Class of 2025, congratulations! You have devoted yourselves to study, to practice, and to mastering the competencies that will take you into the workplace – or into enterprise. Your success today is hard-earned, and you have achieved something many only hope for.

Today is not just a celebration of academic achievement. It is a celebration of an institution that has, over four decades, grown from a humble technical school into one of Kenya's premier centres of technical and vocational training. TENP's story is a Kenyan story—one of resilience, innovation, and relentless pursuit of excellence.

Allow me to commend the Governing Council, the Chief Principal, trainers, staff, and students for steering TENP to its current stature.

The Polytechnic has consistently demonstrated:

- Stable institutional growth,
- Expansion of academic programmes,

- Strengthened partnerships with industry, and
- A track record of producing competent, job-ready graduates.

TENP's contribution to Kenya's technical workforce—artisans, technicians, technologists, innovators—is an achievement worth celebrating. As you mark 40 years, you also mark a legacy of empowering thousands of young people who are today contributing meaningfully to our economy.

The Government of Kenya remains firmly committed to equipping our youth with employable skills that meet the demands of both present and future labour markets. Through the modular curriculum and Competency-Based Education and Training (CBET), we are not only imparting science and art knowledge — we are ensuring that our trainees gain practical, hands-on competencies aligned with local and international industry standards.

Central to this reform is industry engagement. The partnership between TVET institutions and private-sector players is no longer optional; it is essential. When institutions like Eldoret National Polytechnic work hand-in-hand with employers, your training stays relevant and future-ready, and your graduates do not only catch up — they lead.

Under the Ministry's reform agenda, we have set an ambitious target: enrolling over two million trainees by 2027. To reach this goal, we are expanding access by building more TVET institutions across the country and ensuring equitable distribution.

Our commitment extends beyond infrastructure. In the most recent budget cycle, the government allocated KSh 29 billion to the TVET sector — a clear demonstration that we prioritize skills training, youth empowerment, and sustainable growth.

Greening initiatives have also been introduced in which 218 TVET institutions were registered to plant seedlings, and millions of tree seedlings were grown within TVET institutions.

We are also scaling up recognition of prior learning (RPL), having certified 1,498 candidates under RPL policies.

We believe that capitation, scholarships, and support via the Higher Education Loans Board (HELB) must remain essential pillars of equitable access. Through these mechanisms, we are ensuring that no Kenyan youth with the talent and drive is locked out of TVET simply because of financial constraints.

Moreover, global partnerships have strengthened our TVET system. Institutions like Eldoret National Polytechnic are aligning with international standards, and through alliances, we continue to build bridges to global opportunities for our graduates.

Under Kenya's Bottom-Up Economic Transformation Agenda (BETA), we are accelerating job creation in key sectors: affordable housing, manufacturing, the digital economy, and the creative industries. TVET stands at the heart of this agenda: it is the primary pipeline for skilled manpower needed in infrastructure, technology, and beyond.

As we implement these agendas, we place strong emphasis on quality assurance, ethical standards, and industry readiness — so that graduates are not just qualified, but effective contributors to the national economy.

To the Graduating Class of 2025: I challenge you to go out into the world and create your opportunities. Don't simply wait for employment — be entrepreneurs, innovators, problem-solvers. Kenya needs your imagination, your initiative, and your drive.

To Eldoret National Polytechnic and other TVET institutions: keep strengthening your industry partnerships. Keep updating your curricula, your training equipment, and your teaching methods. Keep nurturing holistic graduates — skilled, ethical, and ready for the future.

We may not yet be where we want to be — but we are making real progress, and faster than many realize. The Government is fully committed to resourcing the TVET sector: in infrastructure, in staffing, in equipment, and in training.

The 2,000 trainers we have just deployed are proof of that, as is the plan to recruit more. The upgrading of TTIs into national polytechnics shows our long-term commitment. The 29 billion shilling investment underscores our resolve.

Once again, congratulations to the Class of 2025. Congratulations to your families, to the dedicated trainers and staff at Eldoret National Polytechnic, and to everyone who has supported this journey. You should be proud — and Kenya is proud of you.

Let us continue building a nation where every young person has a skill, every skill creates value, and every dream has a chance.

Thank you, and God bless you all.

*Dr. Esther Thaara Muoria, PhD, CBS
Principal Secretary, State Department for TVET, Ministry of Education*

The Chief Guest, Cabinet Secretary for Education,
The Governor, Uasin Gishu County,
The Principal and Members of the Governing Council,
Distinguished Guests, Trainers, Graduands,
Parents and Guardians,
Ladies and Gentlemen,

Good morning.

It is with great honour and deep appreciation that I join you today as we celebrate this 25th Graduation Ceremony of The Eldoret National Polytechnic — a momentous occasion marking yet another milestone in Kenya's transformative TVET journey.

To the Graduating Class of 2025, accept my heartfelt congratulations. You have endured rigorous training, demonstrated perseverance, and acquired the competencies that will now define your contribution to our nation's growth. To the parents and guardians — I salute you for your unwavering support.

Allow me to commend The Eldoret National Polytechnic for its exceptional performance and leadership in the TVET space. This institution continues to shine as a centre of excellence in technical training, innovation, research, and co-curricular development — producing all-rounded graduates who are not only skilled but also creative, disciplined, and responsive to the world of work.

Your performance in national and regional TVET fairs, sports, music, and drama reflects a balanced model of education that develops both the mind and the character — exactly the spirit that Kenya's TVET system seeks to nurture.

Ladies and Gentlemen, the TVET sector in Kenya is undergoing profound reforms to make it more responsive, relevant, and globally competitive.

One of the key milestones has been the modularization of TVET curricula, allowing trainees to learn, exit, and re-enter the system flexibly. This modular approach promotes lifelong learning and ensures that no trainee is left behind due to changing personal or economic circumstances.

We have also successfully mapped Cycle 1 and Cycle 2 CBET programmes onto the new modular framework — ensuring alignment with the Competency-Based Education and Training (CBET) system. This process ensures coherence, reduces duplication, and enhances employability by focusing on demonstrable competencies rather than paper qualifications.

These reforms are not cosmetic — they are transformational, positioning Kenya as a regional model for a demand-driven, flexible TVET ecosystem.

At the State Department for TVET, we are embracing what I call “disruptive leadership” — leadership that makes bold and sometimes difficult decisions to move the sector forward.

We recognize that the world of work is changing rapidly due to technological advances, globalization, and shifting labour demands. To remain relevant, TVET must adapt and anticipate rather than react.

Disruptive leadership calls for courage — courage to reform systems, revise outdated curricula, and restructure programmes that no longer meet labour-market realities. It also demands creativity, transparency, and accountability in service delivery.

Earlier this year, the Ministry of Education, through the State Department for TVET, undertook a benchmarking mission to Australia, one of the world's leaders in skills training and vocational education.

That visit offered invaluable lessons on governance, curriculum flexibility, industry partnerships, and pathways for international labour mobility. It also gave rise to the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with SIGNET International, which now partners with several Kenyan TVET institutions — including The Eldoret National Polytechnic.

Through this partnership, our trainees will access cutting-edge training aligned with international standards, enabling them to pursue gainful employment both locally and abroad, including opportunities in Australia and other global markets. This collaboration exemplifies the Ministry's commitment to making Kenyan TVET qualifications globally competitive.

To our trainers, I wish to emphasize that professionalism and integrity remain the backbone of quality training. As role models and mentors, your conduct, creativity, and commitment shape the character and competencies of our youth.

I urge you to remain innovative, disciplined, and dedicated, upholding the highest ethical standards in your service. Avoid all forms of infractions that could compromise the credibility of our sector.

As PS, I remain keenly focused on quality assurance — because quality determines the reputation of our graduates and the confidence of employers. Every institution must commit to excellence in training, assessment, and management.

The Ministry is fully committed to ensuring that Kenya's TVET system remains relevant, competitive, and strategic. We are modernizing training facilities, equipping laboratories and workshops, and supporting trainers through continuous professional development.

Our reforms aim to produce industry-ready graduates, nurture innovation, and make TVET the preferred pathway for Kenya's youth. This is not just an educational reform — it is a national transformation agenda.

To the graduates, your journey does not end today. In fact, it begins now. The world you are stepping into values creativity, adaptability, and lifelong learning. Continue to upgrade your skills, embrace technology, and stay current with emerging trends in your trade.

Do not merely seek jobs — create them. Use the skills you have acquired to innovate, build, and serve. Kenya's future depends on young people like you — confident, competent, and courageous enough to shape their own destinies.

In closing, I extend my sincere gratitude to the management, trainers, and staff of The Eldoret National Polytechnic for your dedication to excellence. You are a key partner in the national skills agenda.

To the graduates — congratulations once again! To the parents and guardians — thank you for your sacrifice and belief in the value of technical education.

As we move forward, let us all continue to support the transformation of Kenya's TVET sector — making it the engine that drives productivity, innovation, and inclusive prosperity.

Thank you, and God bless you all.

Ladies and Gentlemen;

Good Morning.

On behalf of the Governing Council of The Eldoret National Polytechnic, I warmly welcome you all to this auspicious occasion as we celebrate the 20th Graduation Ceremony of this great institution.

Allow me to begin by expressing our deepest appreciation to our Chief Guest, [Name]. Sir/Madam, your presence here today is not only an honour to this institution but also an affirmation of your commitment to the growth of TVET education in Kenya.

Thank you for accepting our invitation and for gracing this ceremony despite your busy schedule.

To our distinguished graduands, today marks the culmination of hard work, discipline, and dedication. On behalf of the entire Governing Council:

Congratulations on your remarkable achievement.

You have earned not only academic credentials but also practical skills that position you to thrive in a competitive world. We are proud of you, and we look forward to witnessing your contribution to the nation's development.

Chief Guest,

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Allow me to recognize and appreciate the Government of Kenya, through the Ministry of Education and the State Department for TVET, for the continued financial support and grants extended to TENP. These resources have enabled us to expand programs, improve governance, and strengthen training capacity.

We also acknowledge the Higher Education Loans Board (HELB) for the vital financial support extended to our students. Many of our trainees rely heavily on these funds to access and sustain their education.

However, we kindly appeal for the more timely and expeditious release of funds, particularly at the beginning of training cycles.

This will help students settle, focus, and engage fully in their learning without unnecessary financial stress.

Further, as we appreciate this support, we also humbly request for additional funding to help us address critical infrastructure needs that directly affect the quality of training.

One such critical project is the Ultramodern Library Complex, whose construction regrettably stalled following unremitted disbursement from the exchequer.

This facility, once completed, will significantly enhance learning, research, and digital literacy for thousands of students.

We respectfully appeal to the Ministry of Education and the National Treasury to consider reinstating the funding for this important project so that it can be completed and made operational for the benefit of our learners and the nation at large.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

The modular curriculum, which emphasizes hands-on, practical training, has brought a new reality to our institutions. The success of this curriculum depends heavily on the availability of:

- adequate laboratories,
- well-equipped workshops,
- modern training centres, and
- improved student support infrastructure.

TENP continues to attract increasing numbers of trainees from across the country, and we are now experiencing significant pressure on existing facilities.

To maintain our high training standards — and to align with industry expectations — it is critical that we expand our infrastructure. We appeal for support to develop more laboratories, workshops, and learning spaces to cater to our current and future population.

The most urgent of this is Agricultural Engineering equipment, which is critical in ensuring that our trainees acquire the state of the art skills. We implore the ministry to support us get this equipment.

To our teaching and non-teaching staff, the Governing Council deeply appreciates your commitment and hard work.

Your contribution to the growth of this institution — through dedicated training, service, and innovation — is the foundation upon which TENP continues to thrive. Thank you for your professionalism, integrity, and resilience.

As the Governing Council, we reaffirm our commitment to offering strategic leadership that positions TENP as a centre of excellence in technological advancement.

We will continue to work closely with all stakeholders — government, industry, development partners, staff, and parents — to elevate this institution to even greater heights.

To the Class of 2025:
Go forth with confidence.
Serve with integrity.
Innovate boldly.

May God bless you all, and may God bless The Eldoret National Polytechnic.

Thank you

Graduating Class of 2025;
Ladies and Gentlemen;

Good Morning.

It gives me great honour and profound gratitude to stand here today as we celebrate the 20th Graduation Ceremony of The Eldoret National Polytechnic. Today is a profoundly special day for all of us at The Eldoret National Polytechnic. Not only do we gather to celebrate the 20th Graduation Ceremony, but we also mark a historic milestone—40 years of service, growth, and transformation. This ruby jubilee is a moment to reflect, to appreciate, and to dream boldly.

Forty years ago, what is now celebrated as TENP began as a modest technical institution—small facilities, limited programmes, and a handful of trainees and trainers. Yet within those humble beginnings were seeds of determination, innovation, and an unwavering vision: to produce skilled, ethical, and industry-ready graduates who would build the nation.

Over the decades, we have witnessed remarkable growth as an institution.

This day marks four decades of transformation, resilience, innovation, and the relentless pursuit of excellence.

Over the last several years, The Eldoret National Polytechnic has undergone remarkable development. Our infrastructural expansion, academic diversification, and enhanced training capabilities have firmly placed us on the national map as a leader in technical and vocational training.

- Our trainer population has grown significantly, now standing at over committed, highly skilled, and professionally qualified trainers.
- We have expanded our departments to accommodate emerging fields in technology, engineering, entrepreneurship, applied sciences, computing, and business.

This impressive growth is a direct result of strong leadership from the ministry and the Governing Council, dedication from our trainers, and unwavering support from our stakeholders.

TENP has steadily grown into a college of choice, attracting students from all the 47 counties of Kenya.

This multicultural representation is a source of pride and strength. It demonstrates the trust that Kenyan families—from Mandera to Migori, Turkana to Taita Taveta—continue to place in our institution.

Parents and guardians, we appreciate your confidence in us.

You have entrusted your sons and daughters to us, and today we proudly present them back to you as polished graduates—trained, molded, and prepared to face the future.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

The world of work is changing rapidly. At TENP, we have been intentional in ensuring that our graduates remain competitive and employable.

Our curriculum reforms have been driven by:

- robust synergy with industry experts,
- continuous labour market surveys,
- and strong partnerships with the private sector, government institutions, and international agencies.

These collaborations have ensured that our courses are consistently aligned to job market requirements.

Industries such as Uasin-Gishu County Government, Rivatex, Kenya Ordinance factory, Boma Inn, St Luke's Orthoepic Hospital, Chemelil Sugar Company have worked closely with us to strengthen our teaching, practical exposure, and internships.

I am also elated to report that our partnership with HOPS Labour Solutions, which is a licensed UK recruitment firm, in a programme dubbed Mkulima Majuu that connects our Agriculture trainees with opportunities to work in farms in the United Kingdom. So far 78 General Agriculture trainees are already enrolled in the programme some whom have already left the country to Britain.

Because of these partnerships, our graduates do not just leave with certificates—they leave with skills, confidence, and industry readiness.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Our vision, “To be a Centre of Excellence in Technological Advancement,” remains our true north.

It is the compass that guides our planning, our investments, and our culture of service delivery.

It is this steadfast focus that has made us stand out among our peers across the country.

At TENP, excellence is not a slogan—it is a way of life.

We have always endeavoured not just to meet, but to exceed the expectations of our students, industry partners, and the community we serve.

To maintain global competitiveness, we have continually strengthened our approaches in:

- training,
- applied research,
- innovation,
- quality assurance, and
- technology integration.

We benchmark regularly with international institutions and adopt global best practices.

One of our most powerful platforms for academic advancement has been the Annual International Research Conference.

This event has grown steadily and now attracts scholars, innovators, and practitioners from various countries.

The outcomes of these conferences have immensely impacted both industry and academia, contributing to innovation, policy, and applied solutions in technology and development.

RPL is one of the most transformative developments in the TVET Sector. It opens doors for skilled individuals—artisans, technicians, and practitioners—who have gained expertise through experience but lack formal certification.

Today, we proudly graduate our second cohort of RPL candidates.

This is a testament to TENP's leadership in promoting inclusivity, flexibility, and lifelong learning.

To our RPL graduands:

Your journey is unique.

Your resilience is admirable.

You represent the spirit of competency, hard work, and determination that drives our economy.

Dear Graduands of the Class of 2025,

Today is your triumph.

You have demonstrated commitment, resilience, and the courage to push forward even in challenging times.

As you step out into the world:

- Hold fast to discipline and integrity.
- Embrace innovation and lifelong learning.
- Uphold the reputation of this great institution.
- And remember that success belongs to those who combine skill with character.

You are the ambassadors of The Eldoret National Polytechnic.

Go forth and shine.

To our trainers and staff:

Your devotion, sacrifice, and passion are the backbone of this institution. Thank you.

To the parents and guardians:

Your patience, support, and belief have brought us to this proud moment.

To our industry partners:

Your collaboration strengthens our relevance and empowers our graduates.

To the Ministry of Education:

Your guidance and support continue to shape the future of TENP.

TENP remains committed to excellence, innovation, service, and national development.

We will continue to grow, continue to lead, and continue to transform lives.

As we celebrate 40 years of purpose and impact, may we renew our commitment to excellence in technical and vocational training. With unity, innovation, and vision, the next 40 years will be even more remarkable.

Congratulations, Class of 2025! Long live The Eldoret National Polytechnic!

Long live TVET! As we celebrate 40 years of purpose and impact, may we renew our commitment to excellence in technical and vocational training. With unity, innovation, and vision, the next 40 years will be even more remarkable.

Congratulations, Class of 2025! Long live The Eldoret National Polytechnic! Long live TVET!

Thank you
